PCC NATIONAL SALES MEETING

PCC Headquarters in Atlanta, GA hosted the 2017 National Sales Meeting that encouraged information sharing and in-depth discussion between attendees.

Several knowledgeable speakers provided details on exciting new developments like the larger and more powerful touchscreen. PCC sales representatives from across the US participated in the two day event taking a look back at a very successful year and discussed how we can improve in 2018.

As a motivational keywords, National Sales Manager Jim Collins strongly emphasized, “teamwork and communication”.

In the coming year PCC will attend several conferences including “Plastics in Automotive” in Detroit and the NPE Show in Orlando, Florida.

After the meeting, we all enjoyed great food and bowling at Dave and Busters.

In 2018 Process Control celebrates over 50 years of supplying equipment to the plastics industry.

Established in 1967, PCC's goal is to provide the most accurate processing equipment and exceptional customer service and spare parts support. Process Control continues to lead the industry with advanced design and innovative solutions for the global marketplace.
